

Dedicated to Silence ...

THE ART OF LIVING

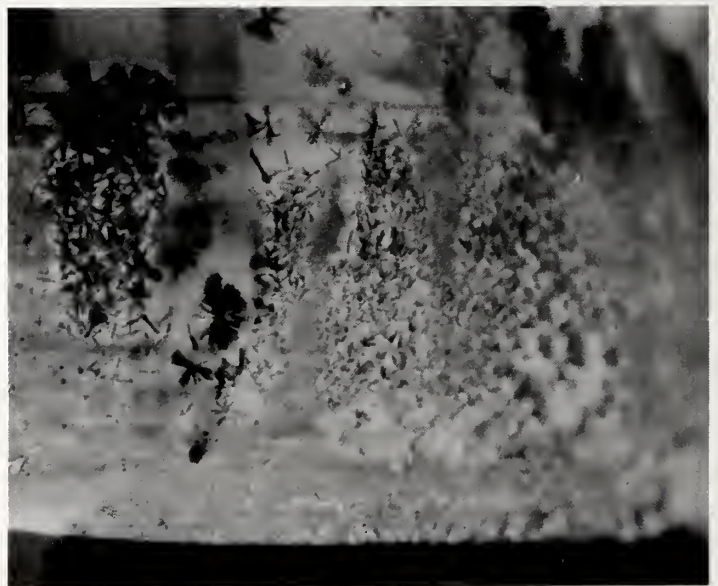

art; n. skill, dexterity,
or the power of performing certain actions, acquired by experience, study, or observation.

To become the master
of an art, the mastery
of that art must be a matter of
supreme concern.

The practice of the Art of Living requires love
cooperation
scholarship
discipline.

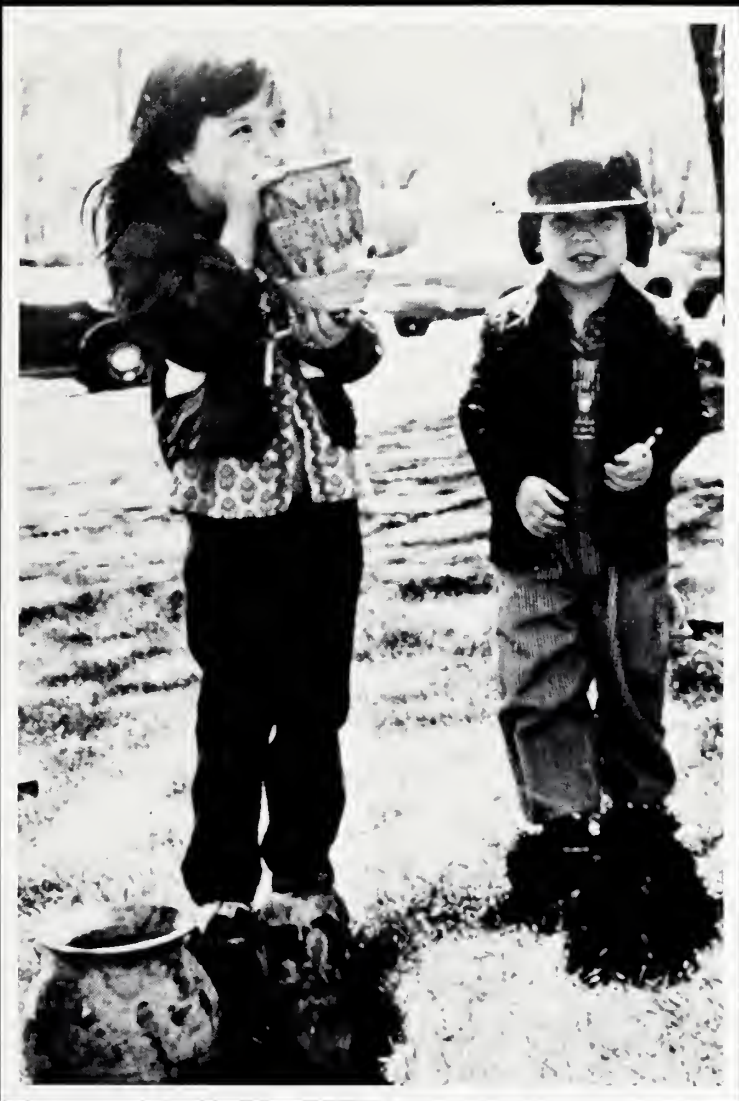

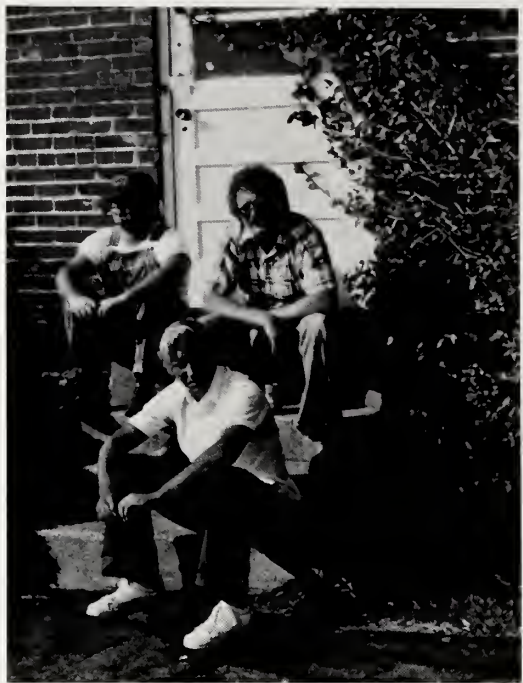

Living requires Faith.
To have Faith requires
courage,
the ability to take a risk and
the readiness to accept pain and disappointment.

Man
is life
being aware of itself

Men and Women
are equals
at opposite poles

Each person should respect his own
integrity and uniqueness.

A black and white photograph of a church steeple seen through the dark silhouette of trees. The steeple is a thin, dark vertical line rising from a dense line of dark foliage. The upper half of the image is filled with the intricate, dark branches and leaves of trees, creating a complex web of lines against a lighter, overcast sky. The overall mood is somber and contemplative.

Whoever shuts himself off
in a system of defense
with distance and possession
as his means of security makes himself a prisoner.

The 1976 Homecoming culminated weeks of planning, designing and building. The theme, "Children's Fantasy" sparked the imaginations of students with delightful memories of childhood. The parade itself was an explosion of color and sparkle; exciting smiles of wonderment all along the route.

WEEKENDS . . .

Every Friday the exodus continues. Most people just don't stay on campus for weekends. It's true there isn't a concert every Saturday but most enterprising students find ways to entertain themselves. Ball games, shopping, bowling, and Praise Gatherings may be included in the weekender's schedule. But if all else fails, he can always study!

WEEKDAYS . . .

Weekdays this year have found us with much to enrich our lives. Such famous performers as Keith Berger and the Redheads and our own special talent have enabled us to broaden our scopes of vision and understanding.

EVERYDAYS ...

These are the ordinary things seen everyday at Campbellsville College. Friends joking together, couples holding hands, and professors and students talking are common scenes. We spend a great deal of our lives throwing frisbees, waiting in those everlasting lines and being bored by four (at least) years of classes and cafeteria food.

SEASONS IN C'VILLE

We had an absolutely wild winter this year! Campbellsville has never seen so much snow. Classes in January were postponed for a week. To ease the energy crisis all thermostats on campus were lowered to a nice, frosty 65°. When at last spring arrived, we were all ready to shed our coats and blankets. It is very difficult to take notes while wearing mittens.

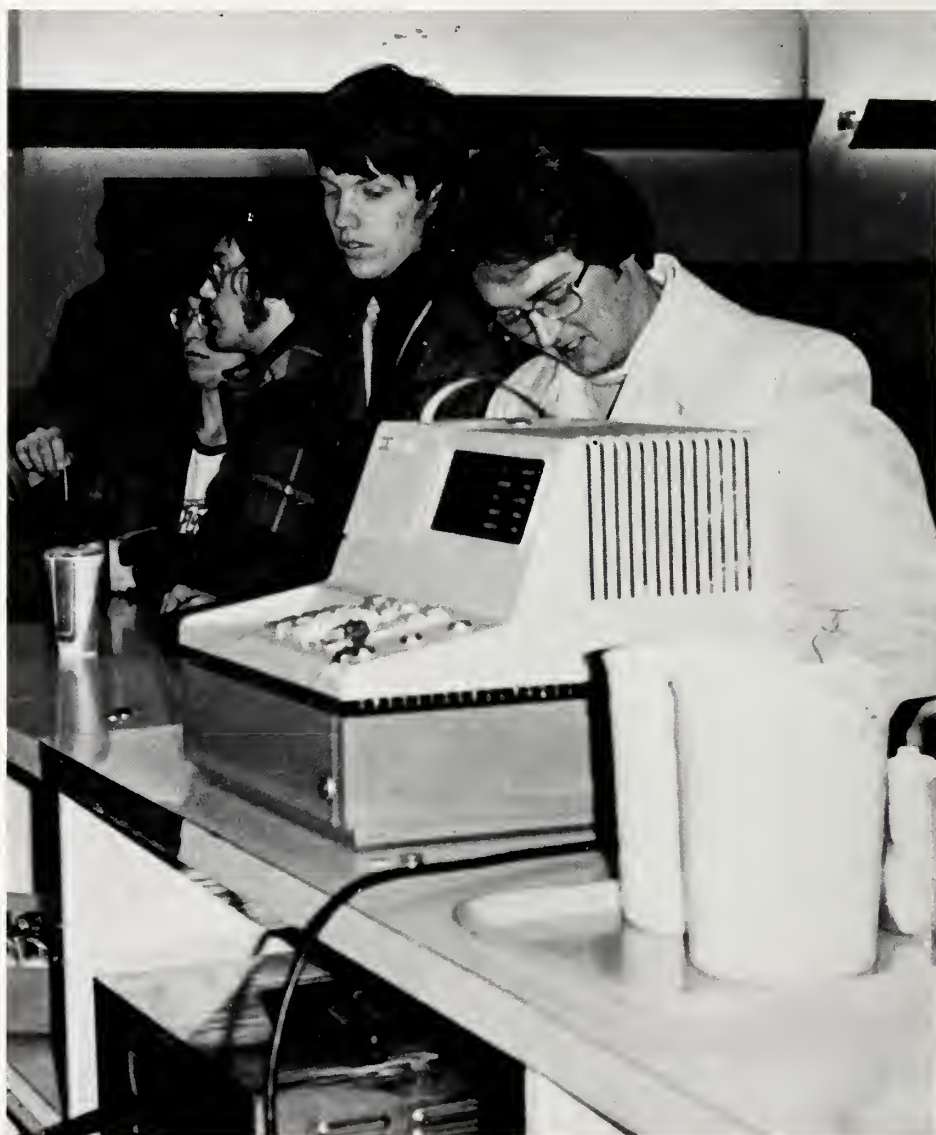

DORM LIFE

The things we do in the dorms! We study and we talk. We skip roomcheck and we talk. We take naps and pop popcorn and have Open Dorms and talk. We even occasionally do our laundry. We plan our weddings and our Intramural football strategy. We "pull all-nighters" and play cards on lonely Saturday nights. And we talk.

COMMUTERS

These are the people who make the pilgrimage to campus every weekday from such exotic faraway places as Greensburg, Black Gnat and Lebanon. Few campus dwellers know of their existence, as commuters are rarely seen except in classes and occasionally in eating and recreation spots. Commuters are to be commended for attending more classes than residents of the campus.

TO STUDY OR NOT TO STUDY The Eternal Question

Will I study for my test now or will I wait until the night before? Should I go to the library to do my term paper or will I watch TV tonight? Maybe I'll go to the Old Gym and recline on the steps. But what about my lesson plan? I think I need to go to the Pizza Villa before I go to bed! Yeah, and then I'll do my speech and my Old Testament before my 8:00 class in the morning. Oops . . . it's 9:00—guess I missed class.

Eating is the favorite pastime at Campbellsville College. We eat to be social, (where else do you see everyone, but in the cafeteria?); we eat when we don't get mail; we eat when we study; we eat when we don't go out on Saturday nights and we eat when we do because there's nothing else to do in town. Whether in a dorm room, snack bar, cafeteria, or McDonald's Campbellsville College has elevated eating to a fine art.

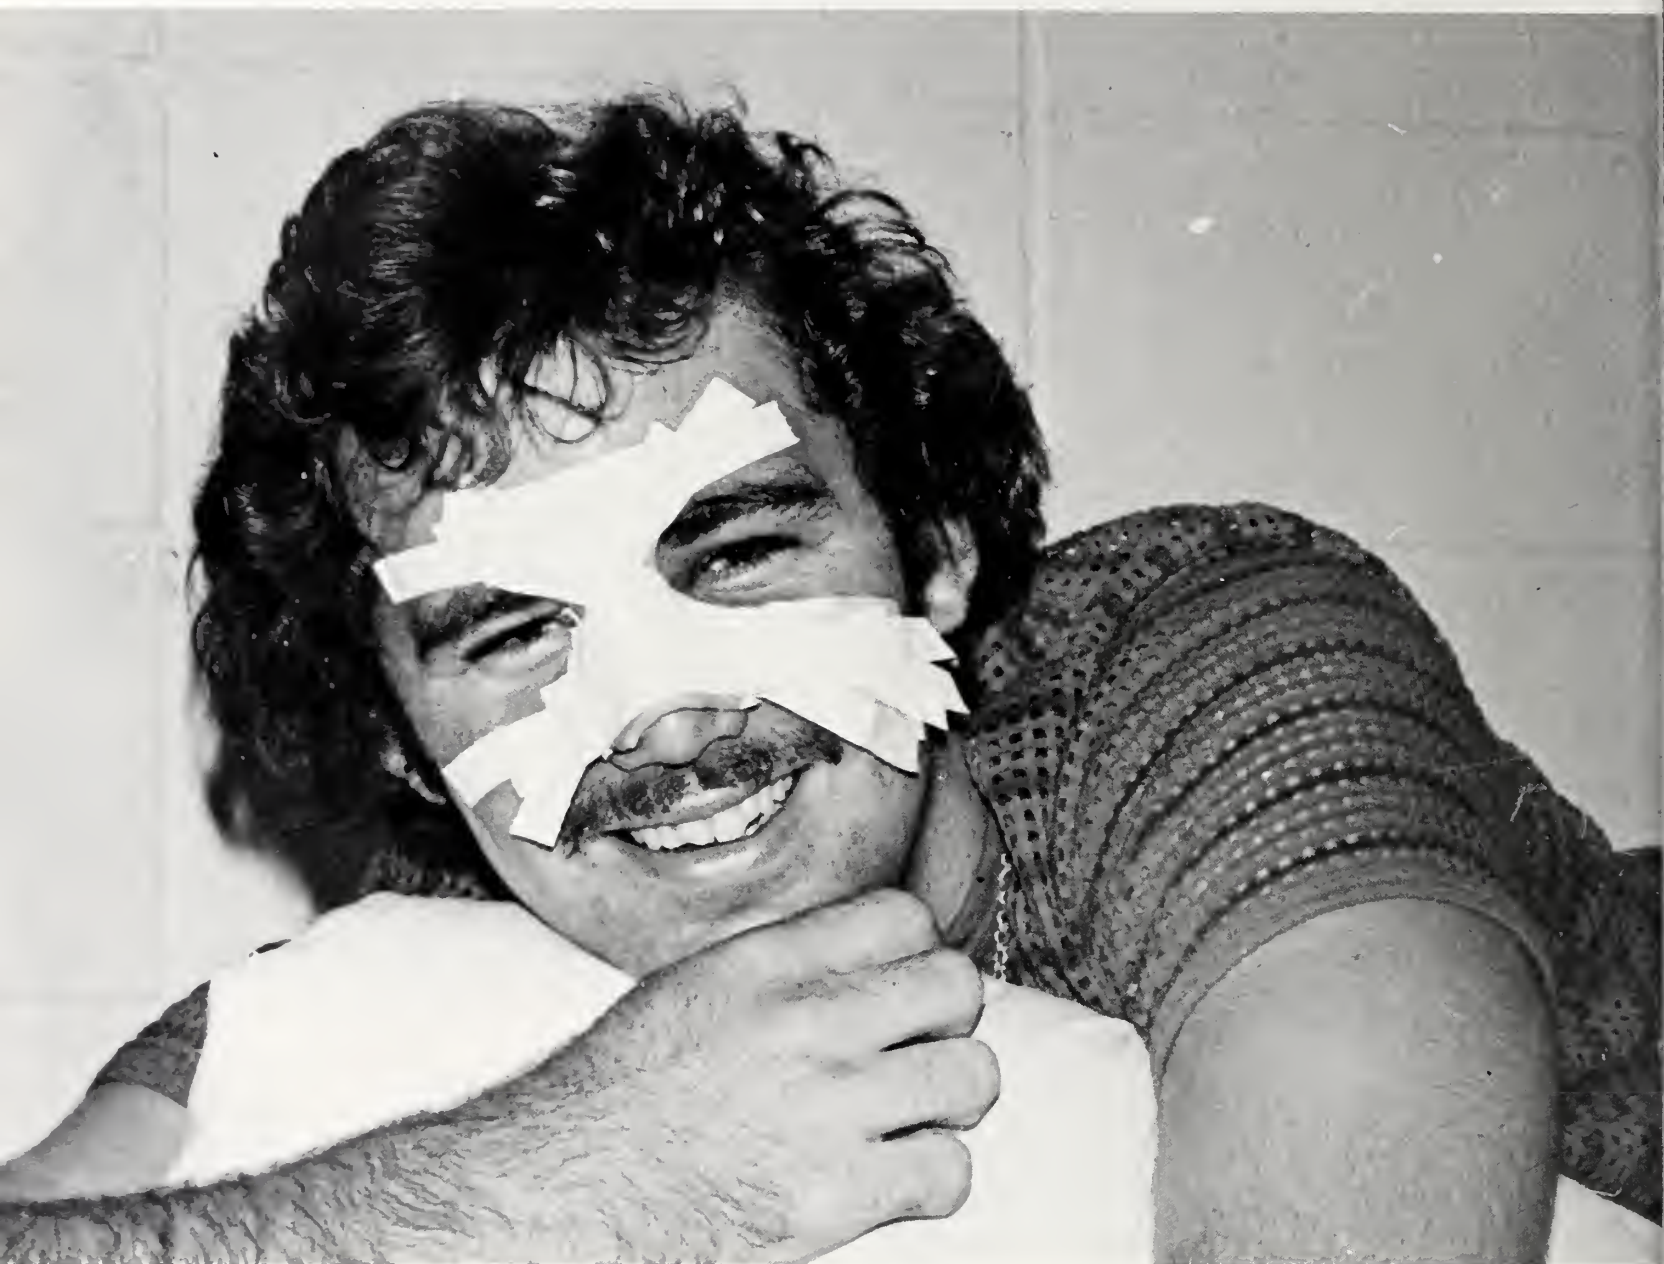

PHYSICAL FITNESS OR “WORKING OUT”

There are those few on campus who have decided that constant eating is not quite healthy and consequently have dedicated themselves to “working out”. Working out is defined as running, swimming, exercising, playing basketball or lifting weights until the workee is drenched with perspiration and exhausted. However, the ranks of the physically fit increase as more and more of us want to look and feel our best.

WHAT MAKES C'VILLE

COLLEGE SPECIAL?

HER SPECIAL PEOPLE.

SPECIAL PEOPLE

The uniqueness of Campbellsville College rests with her students, faculty, and administration. The atmosphere felt here is one of a bond of friendship; of brotherly love and mutual respect. The combination of the varied talents and personalities of these individuals permits Campbellsville College to offer more than just an academic education.

SPECIAL PEOPLE

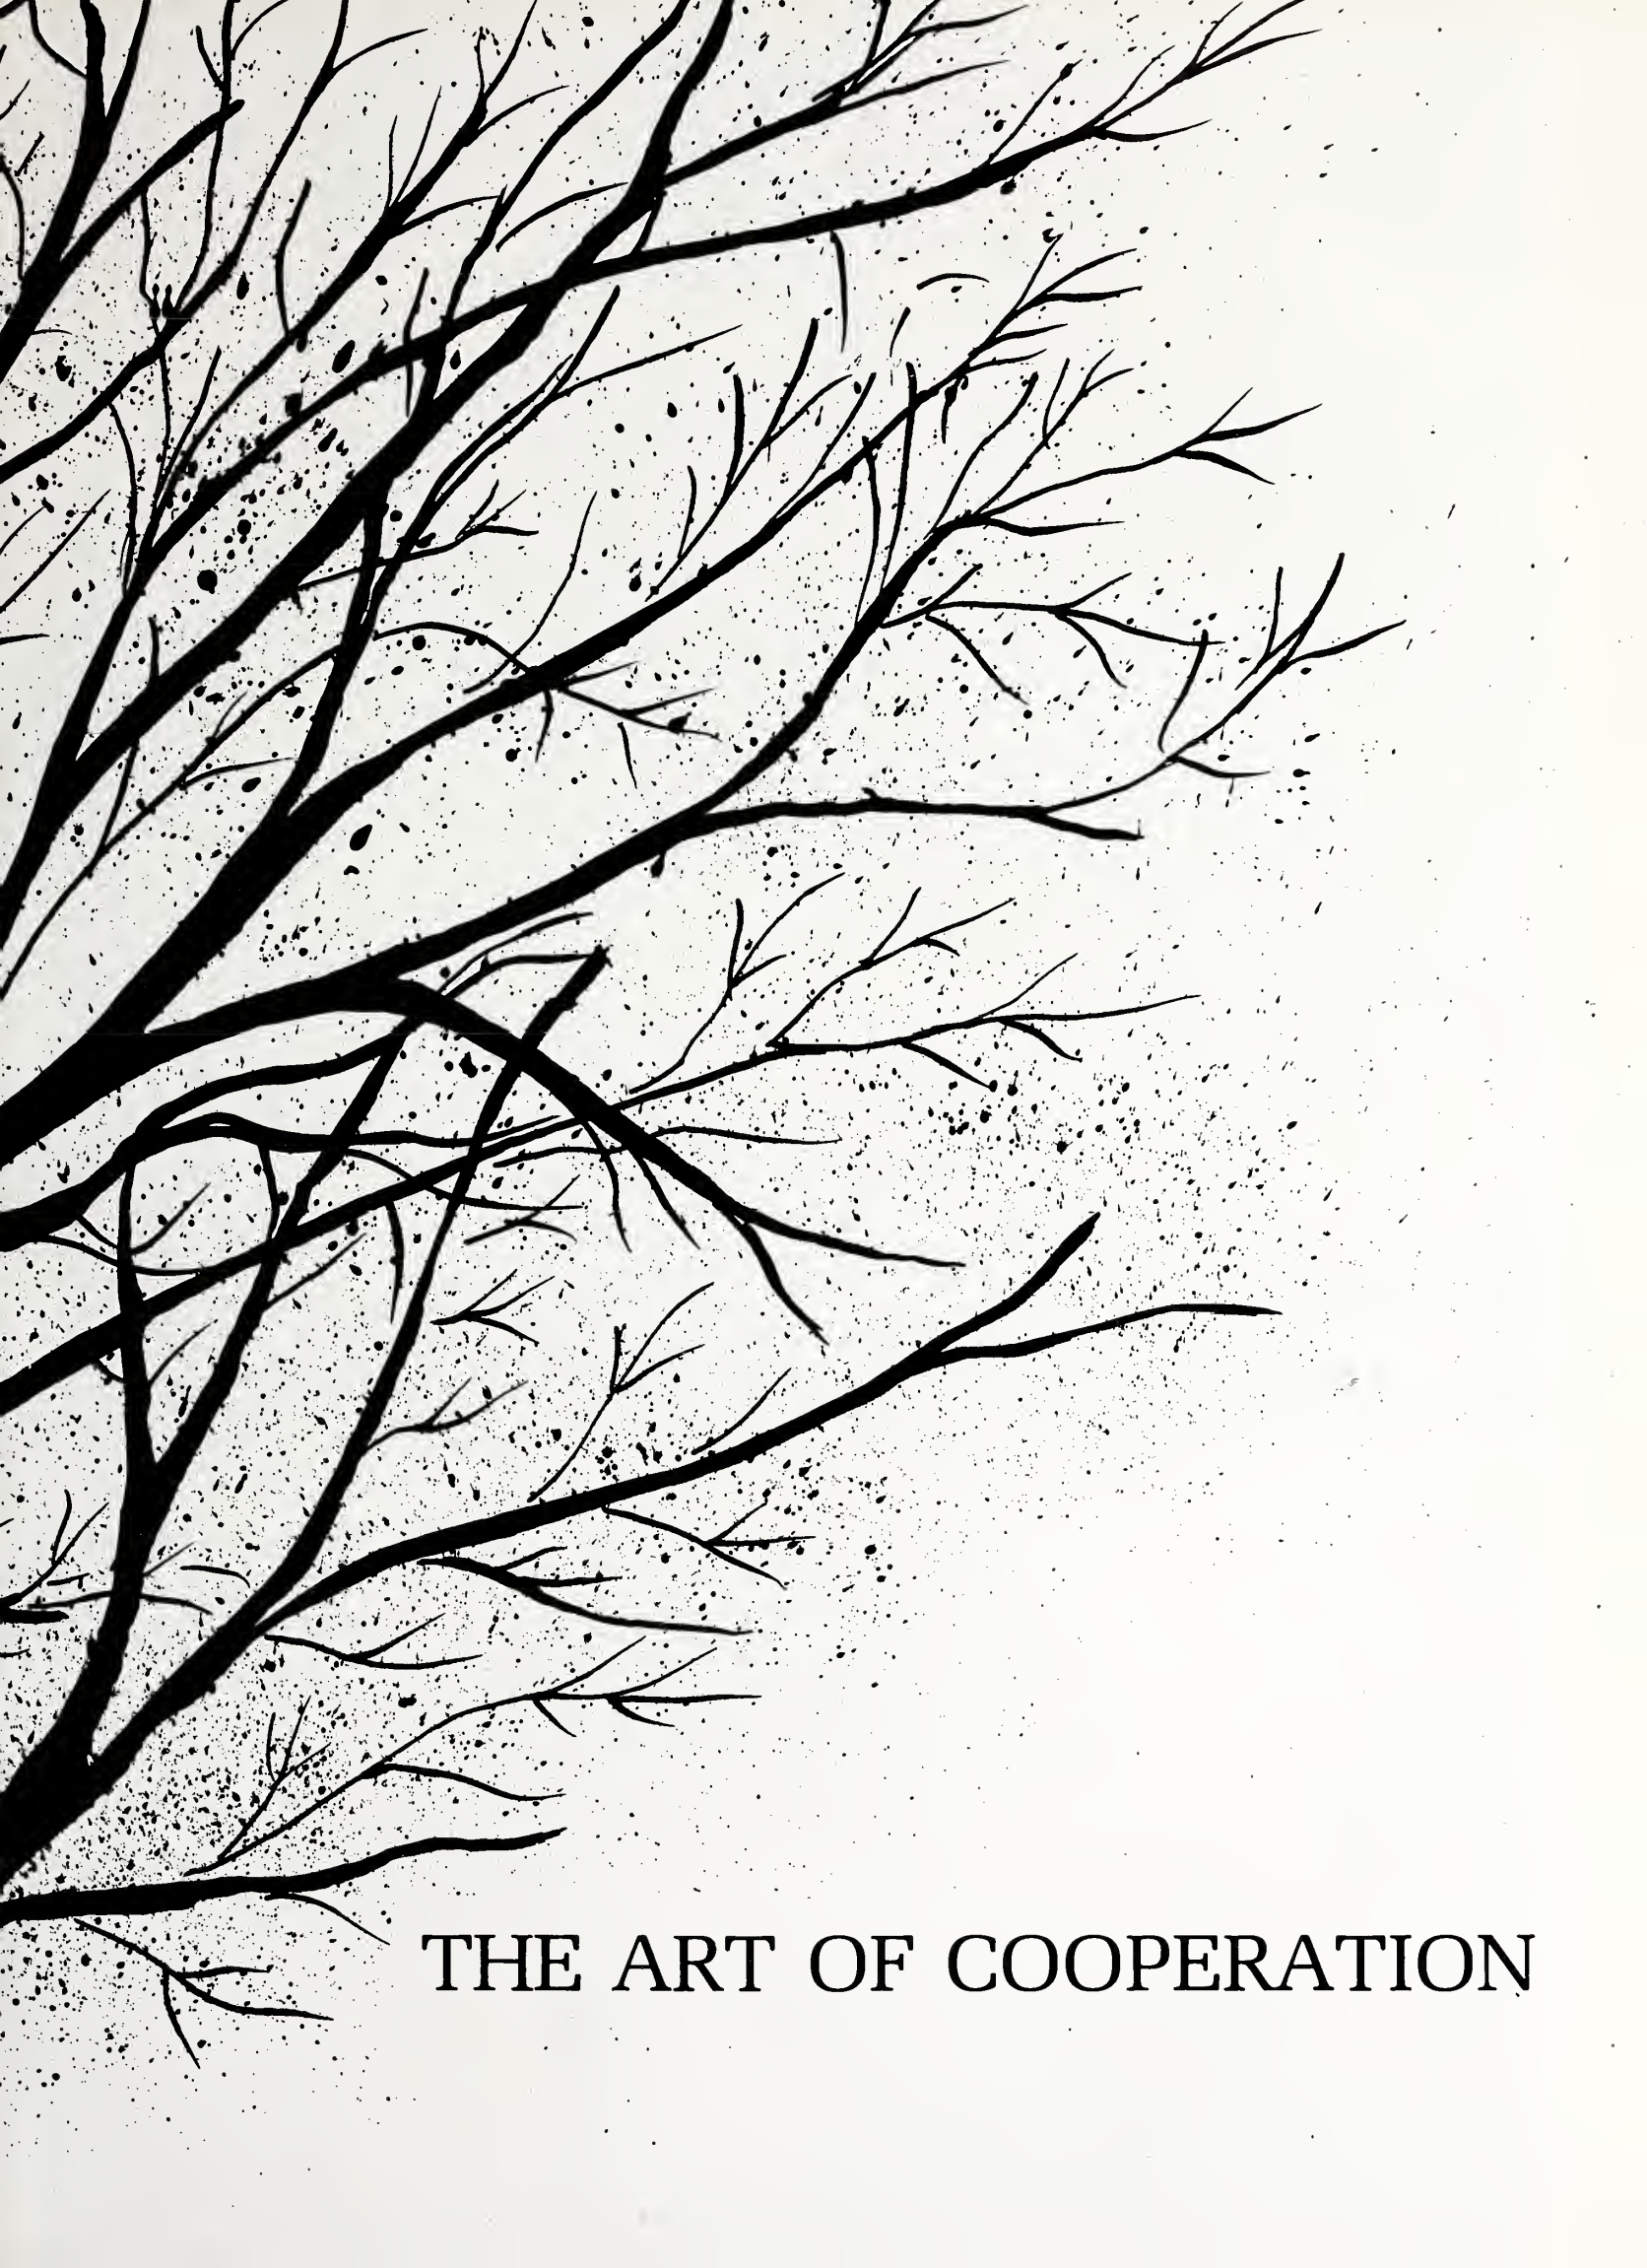

The friendships we form here are those that will last. The laughter and the teasing; the depression and the comforting will long echo in our memories of college life. We learned how to communicate. We learned how to love. And nevermind the "gossip"—the positive outweighs the negative.

TEAM WORK

BASKETBALL

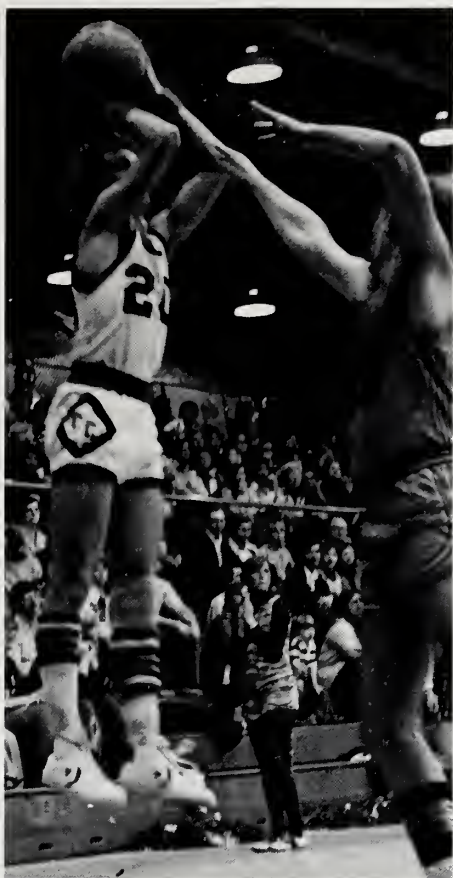

This year's basketball team played under a double handicap: a tough schedule and a radical coaching change. The schedule included such small college powers as Pikeville, Bellarmine, and Transylvania, and nearly all of the other teams were rough, bruising, and physical (especially Cumberland; right Duane?)

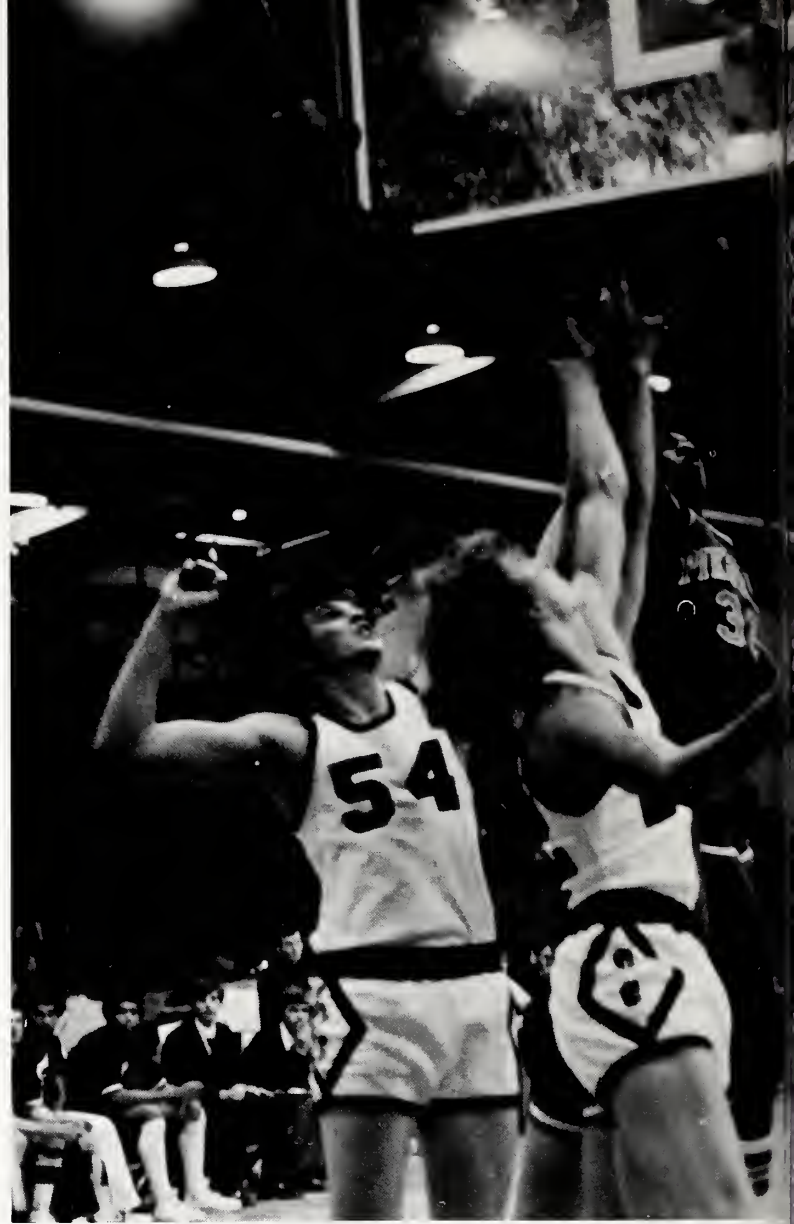

The second handicap featured a coaching change at midseason which had a major impact on the team. While Mr. Coleman and Mr. Rohrer are both proven coaches, their styles are quite different. Mr. Coleman prefers a disciplined, methodical and patterned offense and makes use of various types of zones on defense. Mr. Rohrer does not emphasize patterns, as he prefers a fastbreaking freelance type offense and a scrapping man-to-man defense.

Such a major change in mid-year has the same effect on a basketball team that shifting from second to third gear without using the clutch would have on a car. Both coach and team are now well acquainted with each other; and this composition may lead to a K.I.A.C. Championship in the 1977-1978 season.

THE ART OF DYING

IN MEMORY OF

GLORIA GRIFFITH

KATHY NEAL

Think of—

Stepping on shore and finding it Heaven!
of taking hold of a hand, and finding it God's hand,
of breathing a new air, and finding it celestial air,
of feeling invigorated, and finding it immortality,
of passing from storm to tempest to an unbroken calm,
of waking up, and finding it Home.

Author Unknown

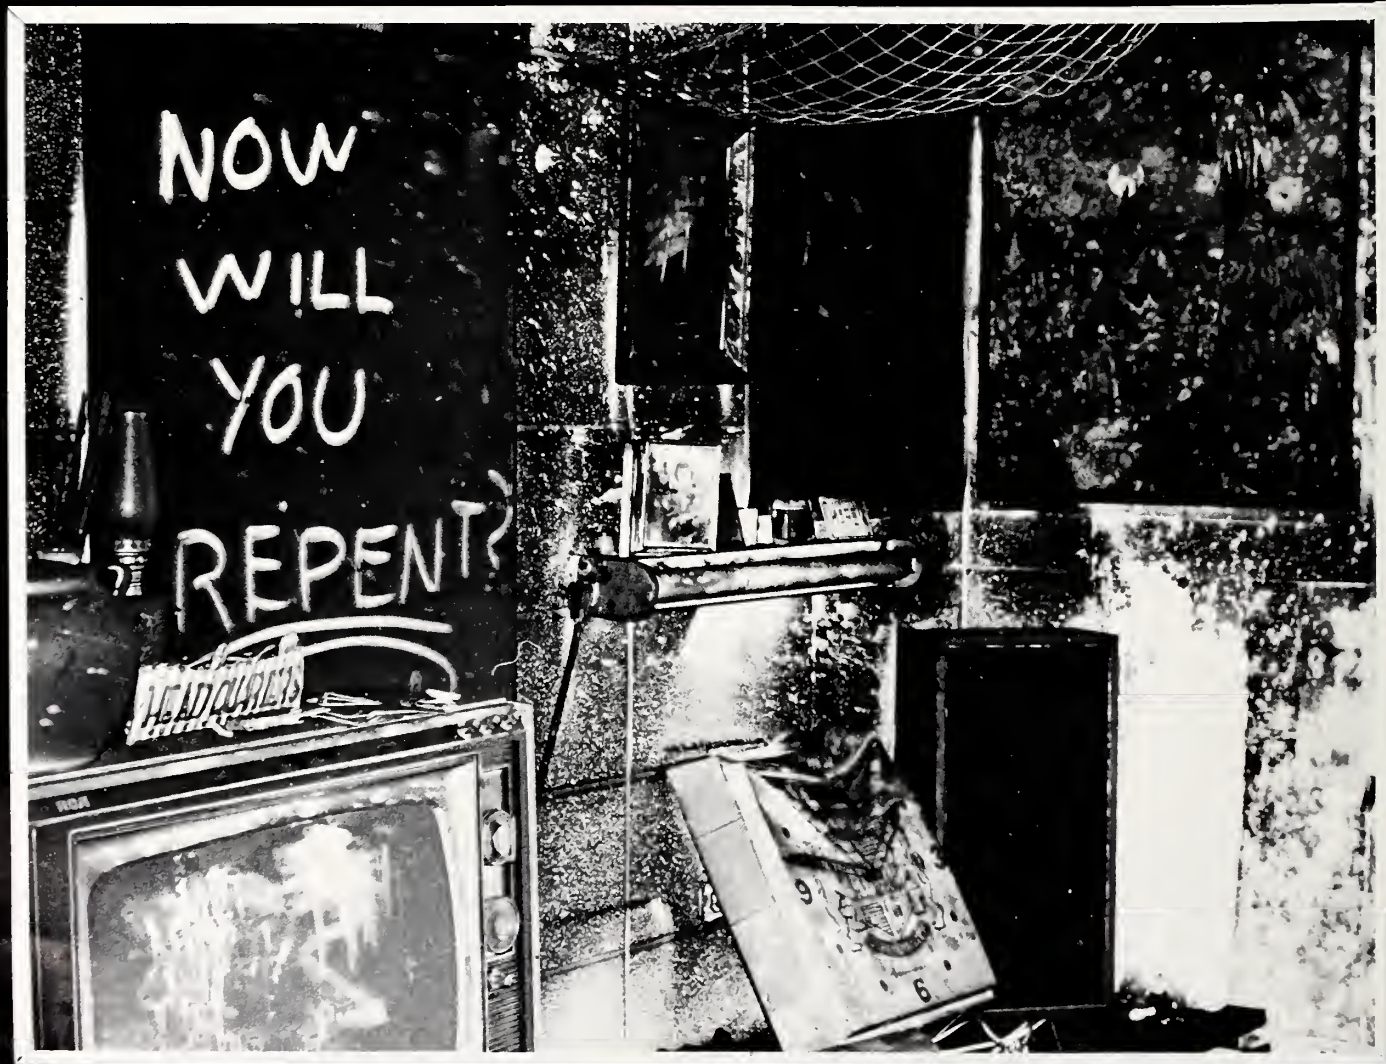

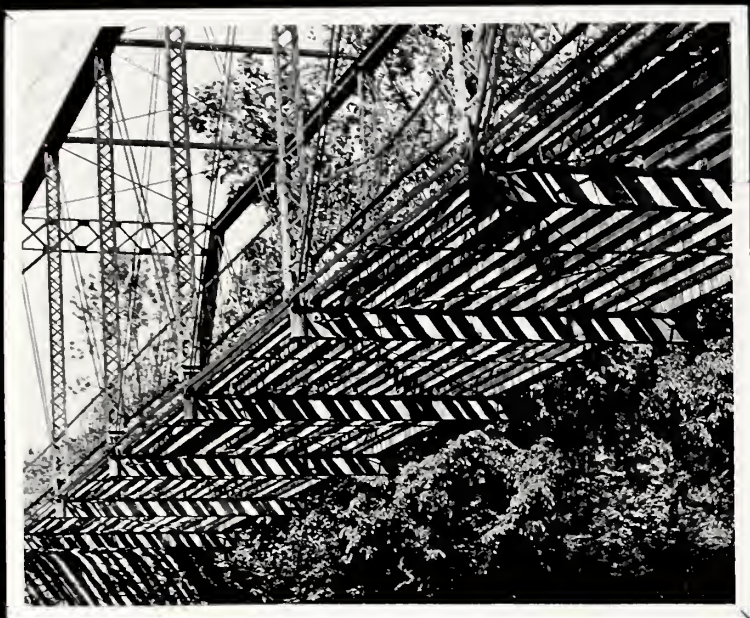

We take too much for granted in this world.

We expect that there will be a tomorrow and another tomorrow and yet another tomorrow.

We plan to live until we grow old.

But part of living is dying. Death is inevitable.
And Death does not always wait until we are through living—until we have loved and laughed and cried this life to its fullest.

Therefore, we must accept the reality of death and be aware of all our opportunities. We must wring all the living from each day. Grasp the moments for what they are ...
Look up at the stars.
